SCHOOL CHARACTERISTICS AND REPLICABLE PRACTICES
• Early release day provides one hour weekly for collaboration by departments or grade levels. Additional collaboration time provided through monthly faculty meetings, district release days, and conference attendance.
• Intervention/enrichment/study hall provided during daily embedded Cougar Achievement Time. Additional skill-based classes are offered during the school day for students in need of additional intervention.
• Zero-period offering allows access to electives for students in intervention.
• School provides computers for every sixth and seventh grade student. In 2016-17, as part of the “technology for learning” plan, all students will be issued computers.
• All departments embraced the school goal in literacy, and enhanced their curriculum to address Common Core reading/writing/speaking expectations.
• Visual and performing arts are consistently superior and students perform in a variety of venues in the community and beyond.
• Students engage in group assignments/projects in all subject areas, often across disciplines.
• Teachers new to the school are supported through assigned mentors they meet with weekly, attending relevant training, and working with the school Induction Coordinator.
